in the case of non-gazetted officers, the Audit-conditions regarding the grant of leave have been fully observed & if the leave is quite regular. The with rules rests on the Head of the office and the Audit office is expected to check the leave granted only at the time a report is made on the pension application of the individual concerned. Reference is invited to articles 816 and 841(b) of the C.S.C. Vol II which contain instructions to the above Effect. The former states that 'it will not be necessary to check the leave granted by earlier records, or the details of the bill by earlier bills though if any such leave appear prima facie to be contrary to rules, it should be noticed'. The latter referring to what is to be done when a pension application is received lays down that 'if it is apparent that leave has been improperly granted and cannot be retrospectively commuted under the provision of article 232 of the C.S.R. without affecting the leave allowances properly admissible, it is left to the Account officer to decide at his discretion whether any demand should be made for recovery of overpayments etc'.
